Bobbitt And His Big Oak.

CRAB ORCHARD, Aug. 13th.—After our glorious, good rains of recent dates, the heart of the farmer is so gladdened and cheered, I feel like inditing a few lines to the INTERIOR JOURNAL, the people's advocate and friend. How true it is if the farmer prospers we all are prosperous together. How that: Kings and princes they may flourish or they may fade. A breath can make them as a breath hath made. But the farmer is the working man. Their country's hope and pride. When once destroyed can never be supplied.

In a recent ramble through the forest with a gentleman from Virginia and Indiana, in passing a saw mill, we saw on the farm of Mortimer Adams the prostrate form of a giant oak of such huge dimensions that we were led to consult the annals to ascertain the age of the fallen monarch, which was 300 years. The acorn that made the thriving tree was shaken by some wandering wind from the top of an old oak in 1601. This was only 195 years after Columbus had died in chains and poverty in Spain. That acorn fell to the ground 131 years before Washington was born. It was only a baby plant at the beginning of the 17th century but was 176 years old when Burgoyne surrendered to Gates and 180 years old when Cornwallis surrendered to Washington at Yorktown. Perhaps the panther was springing from its spreading from its spreading limbs upon the timid deer, or the eagle making his eagle in its lofty branches when Jefferson was penning the immortal declaration of independence. This fallen king of the forest was 260 years old before Lee, Jackson, Hills, Johnsons, Bee, Stuart, Morgan, Vandorn, Longstreet and the hosts of Confederate officers and soldiers had erected 2,000 Thermopiles in the South and won a renown as glorious as the deathless immortality of Leonidas and his 300 Spartans. But by the vandal hand of man the great monarch is fallen and is now to be sawed into lumber; another case of the great racer put in the cart. This, however, is the fate even of the king of the turf, when he can no longer throw the dust of contempt in the faces of those following close behind in the homestead.

The Springs this year are doing nicely under Mr. J. B. Willis and lady. The company there this season has been remarkable for its elegance, beauty and refinement, approaching near or the ante-bellum days of Southern aristocracy than has been seen there since the war. A few evenings ago I was telling a most elegant lady about unwittingly falling in love with a married woman, when she replied "Having fallen in love with her you could not fall out with her because she was married."

On the 29th, 30th and 31st the G. A. R. meets here. Come and see them. Perhaps they thought they were right in helping eight whip one.

FONTAINE FOX BOBBITT.

If you have a baby in your house you will wish to know the best way to check any unusual looseness of the bowels, or diarrhoea so common to small children.

O. P. M. Holliday, of Deming, Ind., who has an eleven months' old child, says "Through the months of June and July our baby was teething and took a running off of the bowels and sickness of the stomach. His bowels would move from five to eight times a day. I had a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in the house and gave him four drops in a spoonful of water and he got better at once." For sale by Craig & Hocker, druggists.

KINGSVILLE.

Little Estell Gooch continues ill of scarlatina. Dr. C. M. Thompson's children are convalescing from that disease. Mr. Taylor continues ill of typhoid fever.

Mrs. Henry Leach died Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock after a brief illness, from which she suffered intensely. She was a good Christian woman. She leaves a husband and five children, and we tender our deepest sympathy to the sadly bereaved relatives. Funeral service by Rev. Dr. Allen at the Christian church, of which she was a member.

Funeral service, conducted by Rev. Dr. Allen, was held at the Christian church Sunday afternoon, after which all that was mortal of the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McCarty was laid to rest in the Presbyterian graveyard. They almost worshipped the tiny babe, and we extend, with the community, our heartfelt sympathy.

Mrs. Sophia Davis, of Pineville, returned home after a brief visit to her brothers, W. L. and J. M. McCarty, here, where she was called by the death of her little niece. Mrs. Chenault and Miss Turner, of Shelbyville, who have been the pleasant guests of their uncle, Mr. Berry Pruitt, have returned home. Miss Gertrude Pennybacker returned from Somerset Monday.

A MINISTER'S GOOD WORK.

"I had a severe attack of bilious colic, got a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, took two doses and was entirely cured," says Rev. A. A. Power, of Emporia, Kan. "My neighbor across the street was sick for over a week, had two or three bottles of medicine from the doctor. He used them for three or four days without relief, then called in another doctor, who treated him for some days without relief, so discharged him. I went over to see him the next morning. He said his bowels were in a terrible fix, that they had been running off so long that it was almost bloody flux. I asked him if he had tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and he said 'No.' I went home and brought him my bottle and gave him one dose; told him to take another dose in 15 or 20 minutes if he did not find relief; but he took no more and was entirely cured. I think it is the best medicine I have ever tried." For sale by Craig & Hocker, druggists.

"If you want to sleep in coolness and comfort during the hot weather, sleep on straw matting" said a naval officer who has recently returned from the Asiatic station, to a New York Sun writer. "Not on the floor," he continued, "though of course it would be cooler, but go to some carpet dealer with the exact measurements of your bed and have him sew strips of matting together to fit, after ironing the seams down hard. Put your matting between the sheet and the mattress and you'll know what comfort is. You have all the original softness of your bed with none of its heat. The coarser the matting the better, as it will allow better ventilation."

The Shah of Persia is said to have $25,000,000 worth of diamonds.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with such ideas, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and has therefore required constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.
